MARYVILLE COLLEGE
1819 CHILHOWEAN 1987

68 Years of Tradition

Maryville College is a liberal arts, church-related college. It strives to be an instrument of liberation and growth for adults of all ages. Through its curriculum the College affirms the continuing values of a broad range of study in the humanities, the sciences, and the arts. Avoiding narrow specialization, the College aims to enhance career opportunities and develop a true sense of vocation. To prepare students for a world of uncertainity and accelerating change, the College seeks to stimulate purposeful inquiry, to encourage taste and sound judgment, to provide opportunity for developing personal values, and to nurture the deep concern for persons that leads to constructive action.

Founded by leaders of the Presbyterian/Reformed tradition, Maryville College is related to the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) in a voluntary covenant. In an atmosphere of freedom and sensitivity, Maryville College bears witness to God's revelation in Jesus Christ who challenges all human beings to search for truth, to work for justice, to develop wisdom, and to become loving persons. Continuing in this vital faith, the College believes that it must listen attentively and humbly to all human voices so that it may hear the call of God no matter how God may speak.

Maryville College is, in essence, a community for learning. This community includes persons with a variety of interests, backgrounds, beliefs, and nationalities. The faculty, as a group of scholars committed to the preservation and advancement of knowledge, emphasizes effective teaching and encourages supportive relationships with students. The students are challenged to grow in academic competence, personal and social maturity, and spiritual discernment and commitment. In such an atmosphere of openness and caring, lasting friendships are formed. Through caring for others on campus and beyond, sharing genuine concern for the world, and working to fulfill the College's purpose, directors, administration, staff, faculty, and students strive to build and strengthen the human community.

STUDENT BODY

What does it mean to be a student at MC? Maryville College is much more than a campus of buildings. It is a campus filled with all different types of people with different interests, goals, and concerns. Being a student can mean exploring the world of Shakespeare, the world of the microscopic, or the world of the United Nations. It can mean carrying a horn down a parade route or carrying a pigskin down a football field. It can mean dancing "The Nutcracker" on a stage or dancing Motown in a gym. It can mean acting Shaw or singing Handel. It can mean seeing your name in print — as a byline over a news story or as a signature under a poem. It can mean learning to shoot a bow, build a campfire, or paddle a canoe. It can mean seeing your first opera, performing one, or building the set for one. It can mean making the winning basket, goal, or home run. It can mean drawing a bow across the strings of a violin or a brush across the canvas. It can mean running for office or running a marathon. It means going "Krogering," "malling," or just partying. It means working hard, then getting to play hard.

But all students, whether they spend most of their time in Thaw Hall or across campus in the FAC, share certain things. Being a student at MC means having a voice in campus government. It means having athletic teams, musical groups, artists, and publications to be proud of. It means seeing the mountains every day and attending classes in buildings that are historical landmarks.

Most of all, being a student at MC means having choices. It means something different to everyone, but always something important. It means having a place to belong.

"Homecoming 1986" was a celebration of the Scots at MC. After a couple of nights of frantic float building, the weekend was underway with the annual homecoming parade through downtown Maryville. Later that evening, MC alumni gathered to rename the Student Center and to remember one of their fellow alumni, Sharon Crane. By the end of the night the Student Center had reemerged as Isaac's in honor of MC's first president Isaac Anderson.
The rains came on Saturday, but MC's celebration of the Scots was undaunted despite the loss to archrival Hampden-Sydney, 28-7. Defeat was soothed as the homecoming crowds danced the night away to the big band sound of Archie Ashe and Windfall at Morningside Inn. Perhaps it was a special spirit or some other phenomena, but "Homecoming 1986" drew the college community closer together.

I can't believe it,
Can you?
Four years at M.C.

Do you remember our freshman year?

It seems like yesterday when we found our way to Maryville and discovered where we were to live.
We moved in, met our roommates,
friends and classmates.

Remember going through that week of orientation?
Taking tests?
Getting the results?
Choosing our inquiry groups?
It all seems like yesterday now.

Remember the day we packed up and went to Cades Cove?
Can't you just feel how warm the sun was?
Memories being made, just like now.

We are the last of those who experienced the joy of trimesters and the last to know how difficult the change was to semesters.

Our friends we met our freshman, sophomore, and junior years have all taken that big walk to shake the president's hand and get that piece of paper.
(we'll be the first to shake the new guy's hand)
That well earned piece of paper that symbolizes four years of classes, study, friends, and various other experiences.
Did you ever think we'd take that walk?
Now it's going to be reality.

Now IT is here.

IT is like we are fireworks rocket about to experience our explosion.

We will all depart in our own directions from our common white bright core.
We will depart sparkling, twisting, sputtering,
moving, floating, flying,
gyrating, dancing, zooming into our futures, but still we will remain as bright as we did at that first spark . . . when we departed our community as
The nineteen hundred eighty-seven graduating class of Maryville College.

ANDERSON HALL

"An Epochal event it was when that college classrooms were transferred from the weatherbeaten little one-story building on Church Street to the unprecedented grandeur of the spacious substantial building on College Hill."

— Samuel Tyndale Wilson, fifth president of M.C.

Anderson Hall was erected on College Hill in 1869, a reproduction of "the Bruck College" which was located on Church Street, now the site of First American Bank. The three-story brick building took 18 months to complete and cost $25,000. Funds were provided by William Thaw, John C. Baldwin and the U.S. government through the Freedman's Bureau. The latter money was given because of the school's policy of student acceptance regardless of race or color. In 1892, an annex, known as the "T-wing" or Fayerweather annex, was added, nearly doubling the size of the building.

At this early time, Anderson Hall was used for almost all purposes, except housing, including society halls on the third floor and the college library in the most spacious room available (which was moved to Lamar Memorial Library, the CCM in 1888). Now it houses the administrative offices, classrooms, and some faculty offices.

Anderson Hall was entered on the National Registry of Historical places on Feb. 20, 1975, an honor it well deserved. Appropriately, its image has come to symbolize Maryville College.

THAW HALL

A great increase of students after World War I made necessary the erection of a large building for the accommodation of many additional classrooms, the library, and other purposes. Generous support was provided by Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, who after much coaxing was persuaded to give her name to the building. It was begun in 1920 before all funds were available and took four years to complete. Many students were used as carpenters. The plans called for a large, gracious dining room with a high ceiling on the first floor and a kitchen in rear — not because the college needed a dining facility, but because this was what Mrs. Thaw wanted to give. The second floor provided classroom space occupied by the prep school in 1921 and later by the Psychology, Education, Modern Language, Political Science, Social Science and History Departments.

In 1924 the college library was moved from the cramped quarters of the Lamar Memorial Library (CCM) to the spacious first floor that was to be a dining room. The kitchen space became the stockroom.

In the summer of 1986, Thaw Hall was given a complete overhaul. The exterior was stripped and repainted, stair towers were added on either side to comply with fire laws, and an elevator for the handicapped was installed. The interior was remodeled by adding better lighting, new furniture, new carpet, new paint, widening of stairwells, renailing of the floors and air conditioning. These improvements provide an environment altogether more conducive to academic excellence.

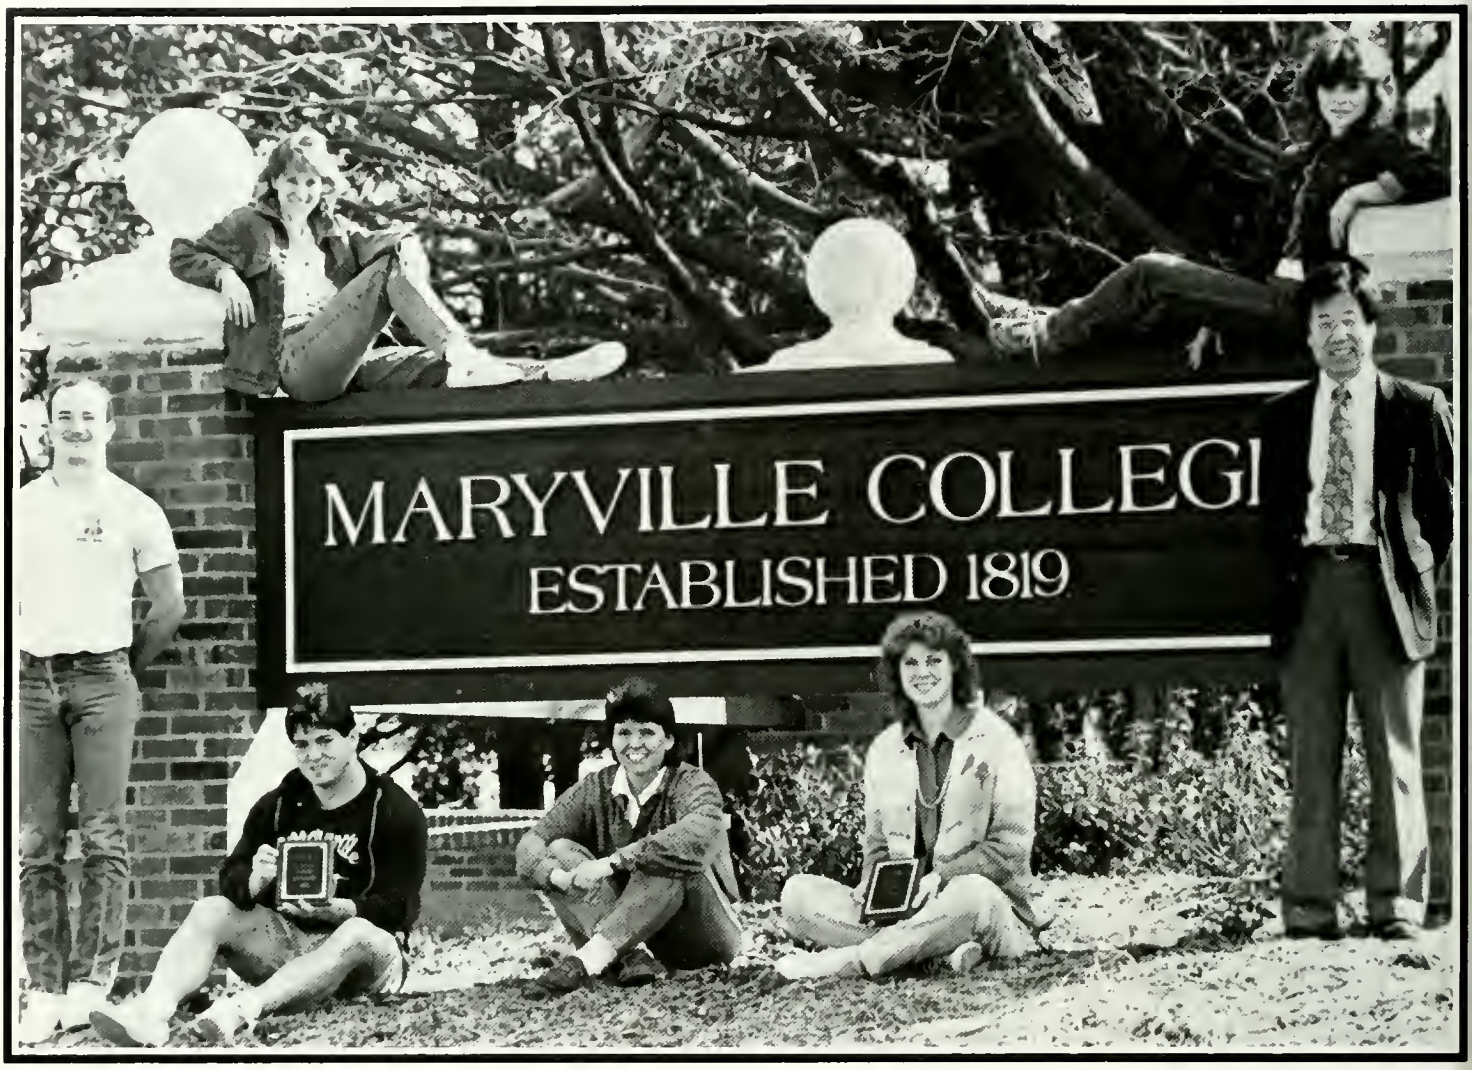
SIMUN



Amy McCleod, Angola; Lori Bergwerk, China; Jeff Whitt, Angola; Steve Katz, Ethiopia; DeAnn Hargis, Ethiopia; Kristi Self, Ehtiopia; Dr. Kim.

A group of Maryville College students, chosen from Dr. Kim's model U.N. interim, attended the Southern Invitational Model United Nations conference at the end of January. These students represented the countries of China, Angola, and Ethiopia in various councils, including the security council. At the end of the weekend, MC walked away with two first place awards. Ethiopia won the small power award, and China took the major power award. Tactics ranging from eloquent rhetoric to the "vicious dog" approach helped MC net its first place prizes.

FAYERWEATHER HALL

In 1898, Fayerweather Science Hall was erected at the cost of only $12,000. It was complete with laboratory equipment to permit teaching from a scientific approach. The two-story hall was made possible by a bequest from the estate of D. B. Fayerweather. In 1913, an anonymous donor contributed an endowment for the formation of a Home Economics Department. A third story to house the department was added by jacking up the roof and bricking in the walls.

In 1968, the Science Department moved to Sutton Science Center. With some remodeling, the first floor of Fayerweather became the bookstore, student center, post office, and offices of student affairs. The second floor provided room for counseling offices, a day-student lounge, and painting studio for art students (now offices of the Chilhowean and the Highland Echo). The third floor became the home of the Appalachian Ballet Company.

The most recent change was the renovation of the student center during the 1985-86 school year, under the direction Sharon Crane. After her death in the summer of 1986, the student center was named "Isaac's" and dedicated to her memory.

The Highland Echo

Peggie Sackett, Kristi Self, Don Dove, Al Hipkins, Brian Linkous, Pam Mathews, Jennifer Worth, Lynn King, Barbara Moffat.

Led by editor Brian Linkous, this group produces the college newspaper. Members of this group write stories, do layout, and proofread each edition. The Highland Echo is distributed twice monthly and covers news and features pertinent to the college and community. Through this publication, students are able to explore various fields of interest in story coverage or simply voice their opinions in letters to the editor.

The Chilhowean Staff

Joanne Lax-Farr, adviser; Kristi Self, editor; Julie Marshall, copy writer; Scott Burgess, organizations; Jennifer Wolkonowski, faculty and staff; Susan Richards, sports; Becky Shakleford, underclass; Traci McDonell, underclass; and Chris Lilley, seniors.

The yearbook staff assembles the Chilhowean each year. Led by editor Kristi Self, the staff decides upon a cover design, theme, and format for the book. Finally, the task of writing copy, drawing layouts, and meeting deadlines is at hand.

The Student Senate

The Student Senate serves as a body which deals with the issues and interests of the students of Maryville College. It develops policies and proposals that are in line with the Maryville College Statement of Purpose. Through the Student Senate, the college is made a more democratic community for students, faculty, and staff.

Peace Education Task Force

Betsy Xiques, Jeff Hollar, Wendi Katzman, Laura Starkey, Charlie Parsons.

The Peace Education Task Force works to promote peace. They educate people about the ways to keep peace in the world as well as the effects of war. The group is led by Charlie Parsons.

Student Programming

The Student Programming Committee works to plan and sponsor activities on campus. They find ways to fund the activities and then make sure that the plans are carried out and the functions run smoothly. This group is responsible for organizing Homecoming and May Madness, as well as dances and other special activities on and off campus.

Circle K

Circle K is a service organization that is affiliated with the Kiwanis Club. It is involved in service to both the college and the community.

Impressions

The members of this organization collect, edit, and layout the Maryville College literary magazine. Impressions presents a way to recognize the often unseen talents of the more creative among us.

Charles Gumula, Sherri Jones, Editor; Dr. Charlotte Beck, Ellen Foreman.

Commuters

The Commuter Club, made up of commuting students, works for recognition of commuters as an important part of the Maryville College campus. Many of the students helped to get the commuter lounge improved.

Academic Life Council

This group works with the ACC. It is responsible for planning the school calendar and reviewing resolutions sent to it by the Student Senate. It also examines the school's curriculum in order to maintain courses of high academic standards.

Dr. Dean Bolden, Dr. Robert Yager, Lissa McLeod, Dr. Scott Brunger, Mr. Bob Ergenbright, Barbara Bolt, Martha Hess.

Black Student Association

Black Student Association — The BSA — is an organization of students interested in fellowship and preservation of common identity. Through campus activities, the BSA works for recognition of minorities as important members of the college community.

The Outdoor Club

The Outdoor Club is an organization open to all students who wish to join and are vested with a love of nature. Access to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park provides the club with an opportunity to exercise their skills and interests. The Outdoor Club enjoys activities such as hiking, skiing, horseback riding, spelunking and camping.

BARTLETT HALL

In 1885 there came to Maryville College a 17-year-old Japanese boy in search of an American education. Kin Takahashi possessed great initiative, adaptability, and energy. His most notable service to the college was the building of the gymnasium and YMCA. In 1895 students under the direction of Kin began work making 300,000 bricks at a yard and kiln just to the east of the building site. Much of the funding was provided as a result of the solicitations of Kin. In 1905, sufficient funds were available for completion. The building only cost $16,000 to build thanks to the zeal of its founder.

In 1970, the Department of Physical Education and Athletics moved to the New Field House. Bartlett now houses the housekeeping and maintenance staff and print shop as well as some administrative offices.

PEARSONS HALL

Pearsons Hall was built in 1910. It was named for Daniel K. Pearsons, who funded it. Originally, the Cooperative Boarding Club used the ground floor, and the second floor was a women's dorm. In 1912, a major renovation was funded by Louis H. Severance. The roof to the hall was raised to add a third and fourth story in order to provide more rooms. In 1935, an annex was funded by a miscellaneous donor and the dining hall was created, which is still in use today. The last work on the building occurred in 1959, when the upstairs women's dorm was rehabilitated.

Today, Pearsons Hall is still the home of the cafeteria, but it is no longer a women's dorm. It is used for summer school rooming, and the coaching staff of Maryville College uses it during the regular school year.

SUTTON SCIENCE CENTER

The science department at Maryville, originally housed in Fayerweather Science Hall, was moved to Sutton Science Center in 1968. It is the most fully equipped building in Maryville history. It adds immeasurably to the College's instructional possibilities. The approximate cost was $1,275,000, toward which the federal government made grants totaling $552,300 and approximately $750,000 was given by Mr. and Mrs. Algie Sutton (Mr. Sutton was a graduate of the MC class of 1929).

Sutton Science center is now the home of math and science majors, providing private study carrels, and research carrels. It also houses the offices of the math and science professors as well as classroom space.

American Chemical Society

Back Row: Kevin Lynch, Grag Bennett, Angela Turner. Front Row: Margie Richardson, Meg Fraelich, Abeba Wuhib, Barbara Bolt.

The ACS is open to all students with an interest in chemistry. The members are provided an opportunity to present and listen to formal seminars on current chemical topics. Our chapter of this scientific organization has been named outstanding chapter numerous times in the past years.

Beta Beta Beta

Our chapter of this national honorary biological society is dedicated to achieving high standards in biological study at Maryville College. Tri-Beta's activities include seminars, lectures, and field trips.

Psychology Club

The students in the Psychology Club work to maintain high academic standards in the area of psychology. They conduct seminars to help keep MC students up to date about current developments in psychology. The club is sponsored by Dr. Sally Jacobs and Dr. Jerry Waters.

FINE ARTS CENTER

Before the Fine Arts Center was built in 1950, the music facilities of Maryville College were housed in the basement of the Vorhees Chapel. Fire in the chapel in 1947 completely destroyed the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Alfred Lloyd contributed funds to equip the FAC in 1949 as a memorial to their infant daughter. Its comtemporary design and construction created much interest in the area as well as nationwide interest and study. It was featured on the cover of Architectural Digest.

New equipment included a large pipe organ and a smaller pipe organ in the little chapel.

It now houses a 250-seat recital hall, an art gallery, a music library, private studios, and practice rooms. Music majors, art majors, choir members, band members, and all artists and musicians of Maryville College enjoy the facilities of the FAC.

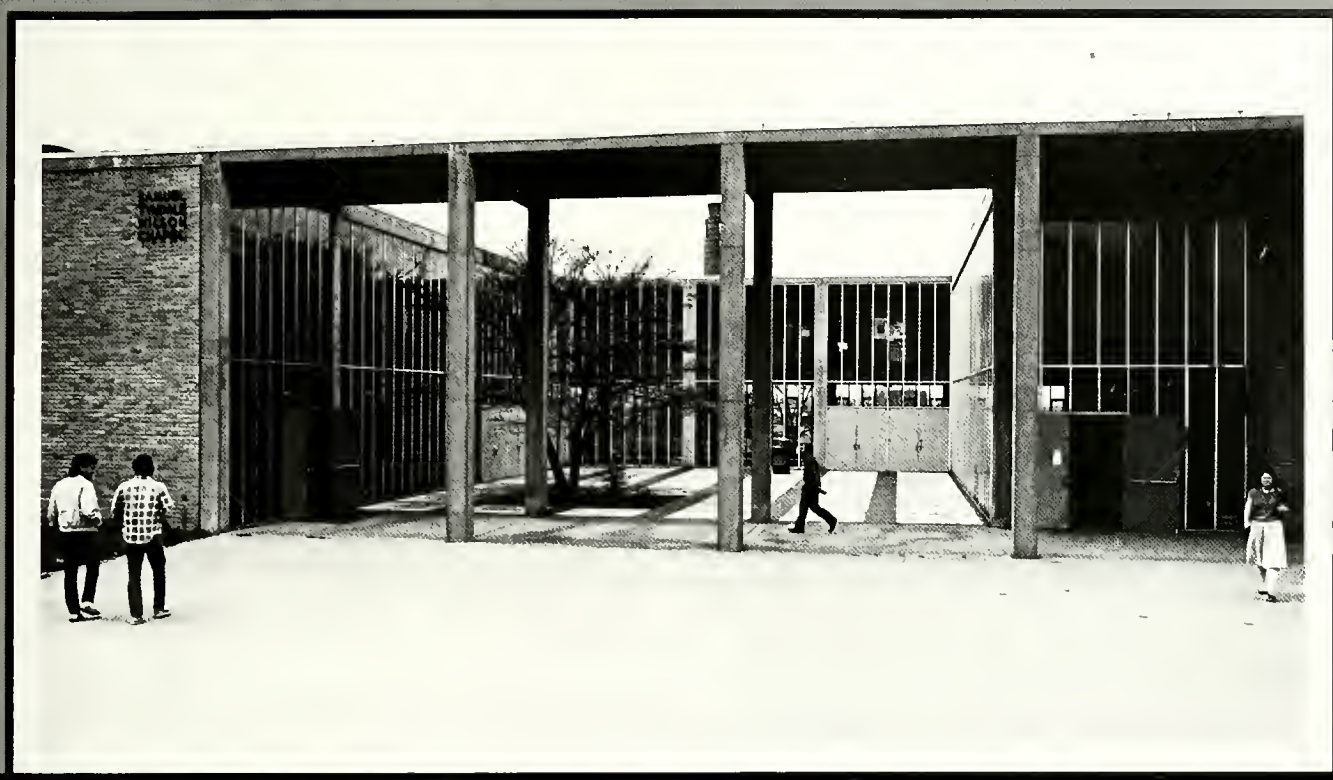
The Choir is open to all members of the College community and allows those with musical talent to exhibit it on MC's behalf. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Robert Ergenbright, acts as an important public relations tool and performs concerts at different times during the year.



WILSON CHAPEL

Rev. Samuel Tyndale Wilson, fifth president of Maryville College, was also a Maryville graduate of 1878, a professor in 1888, and in the 1890's served as dean, registrar and treasurer. During his twenty-nine years of administration, the financial assets to the College multiplied approximately tenfold and the institution became established and recognized.

After the destruction by fire of the Vorhees Chapel, the Samuel Tyndale Wilson Chapel was built to honor a man very worthy of this high honor. This new building complex was completed in 1954, on the site of the old chapel. It contained a chapel auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,150; a little chapel to seat 50; a theatre with a stage of standard size and equipment and seating capacity of 450; and various classrooms and offices and storage rooms.

It now houses the Speech and Theatre and Interpreting departments.

CCM

The CCM building was built in 1888 as the Lamar Memorial Library, a memorial to Professor Thomas Jefferson Lamar, the College's "second founder."

It is a small brick building in the plan of the Greek cross. The southeast facade is a double-high Romanesque arched window that exhibits a stained glass window of the Resurrection.

It served as the library and museum until 1924 when they were moved to Thaw Hall.

From 1924-25 it housed the fourth and last preparatory class. Starting in 1926 it housed the college station post office and bookstore. Later the print shop replaced the bookstore, which moved to Fayerweather.

In 1981 the CCM moved in, the woodwork was refinished, temporary partitions removed, and the stained glass window was repaired.

Now in 1987, it is used as Chaplain's office, worship center, and meeting space.

ATHLETIC BUILDING

The Athletic Building is an important part of the Maryville College campus. This structure serves as the heart of the sports program. It houses the coaches'offices and is equipped with an olympic size swimming pool, a training room, a weight room, an equipment room, three basketball courts, raquetball courts, and several classrooms. Through official athletic events, intramurals, or just 'goofing off,' students are able to keep fit and take advantage of the various programs stemming from this building.

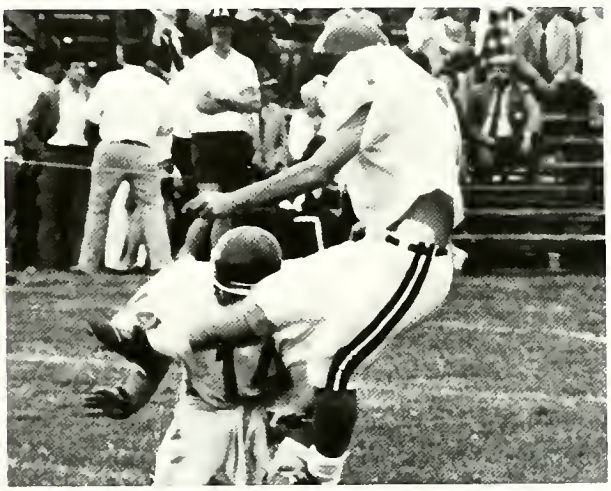
1986 SENIORS

Under the new direction of head coach Larry Stephens, the Scots made a tremendous amount of progress in their 1986 season. Throughout the season the freshmen played a major role in each game, averaging eight starters. The future looks very bright for the Scots' football program. This season's highlights were capped off by having four players named to the All-Conference team. Those awarded were seniors Chris Johannsen, Darrell Lauderdale, and Jeff Whitt, and sophomore Mike Walsh.



THE SCOTS' CHEERLEADERS

The 1986-87 M.C. Cheerleading squad showed great spirit, pride, and ingenuity during the past season. The squad's achievements were highlighted by being voted Squad of Excellence and also winning 1st runner-up during final competition at a N.C.A.

FIGHTING SCOTS BASEBALL

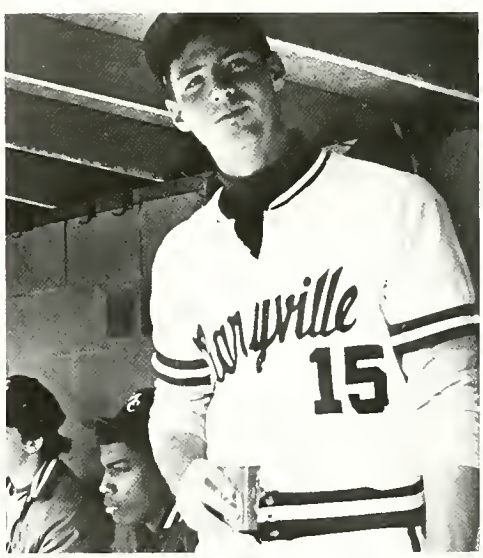
1987 SENIORS

The 1987 Fighting Scots baseball team began their spring season with a solid foundation of returning starters and recruited players. Due to injuries on and off the field, the Scots' play was hindered. The future looks bright for the Scots baseball program since seven out of their starting nine will be returning.



LADY SCOTS SOFTBALL

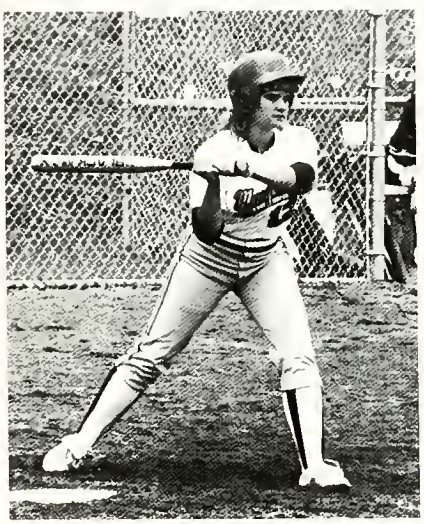
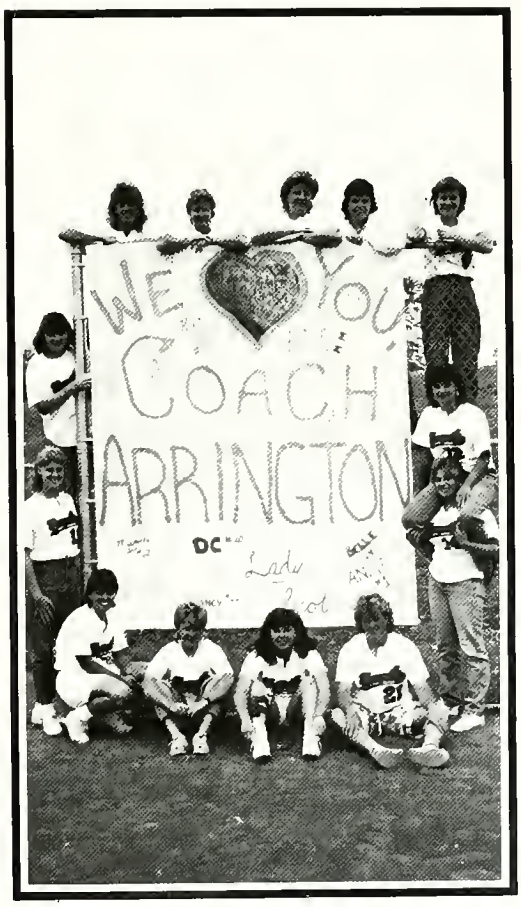
Coming off a record breaking season, the 1987 Lady Scots Softball team took the field with more talent and desire than any previous season. The Lady Scots were the winningest team on campus for a second year, with a record of 21-13. The season highlights were beating Carson Newman four times and Tusculum College twice, playing the final home games on campus, and ringing out the victories on "Victory Hill."





FIGHTING SCOTS BASKETBALL

The men's basketball team finished 11-15 for the 1986-87 season. The biggest highlight of the season was the play of sophomore Scott Fletcher. Scott led the team and the conference in field goal percentage (62%) and finished the season averaging 18 points a game. Coach Lambert is very enthusiastic about next season with all lettermen returning.

LADY SCOTS BASKETBALL

The 1986-87 Women's basketball program boasted a young and promising team faced with an extremely difficult task. The team took the court against scholarship schools in 50% of their scheduled games. The team did not produce an outstanding win-loss record but always played with more dedication and heart than any team they faced. One highlight of the season was the naming of freshman Penny Carden to the Fastbreak All-American Freshman team.

FIGHTING SCOTS SOCCER

The MC soccer program has erased the past, and is heading towards the future. Twelve of the sixteen school records were broken by the 1986 Scots soccer team which started seven freshmen on the eleven-man team. The team had many highlights this season, such as winning the Metroploitan Life Tournament at Univ. of North Carolina, maintaining one of the lowest goals against averages in NCAA III, and the naming of junior Walter Walsh and senior Danny Clark to national awards.

LADY'S SOCCER CLUB

The women's soccer club continued to improve during its 1986 season. The soccer club began its second year under Coach Greg Hosler with an exciting first-ever victory. With the assistance of women from the community, the women's soccer team was a strong contender in each of its match-ups.

On Sunday, May 17, 1987, the 168th Maryville College graduation cermony took place. The day was marked by brief rain showers, but the graduates' spirits were not dampened. President Richard I. Ferrin delivered the commencement address and the welcome was given by Senior class president Chris Herbert. One hundred-twelve students received their degrees. Honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws were given to Tutt Bradford and Leland Waggoner. Special Awards went to Betsy Hunt, staff; and Sid Downey, administration. The Sharon Crane award, given to the person who best serves Maryville College and who's attitude best represents the spirit of the college, was given to Bob Kirkland. The faculty award went to Dr. Terry Bunde, with Dr. Eileen Riordan receiving the runner-up faculty award.

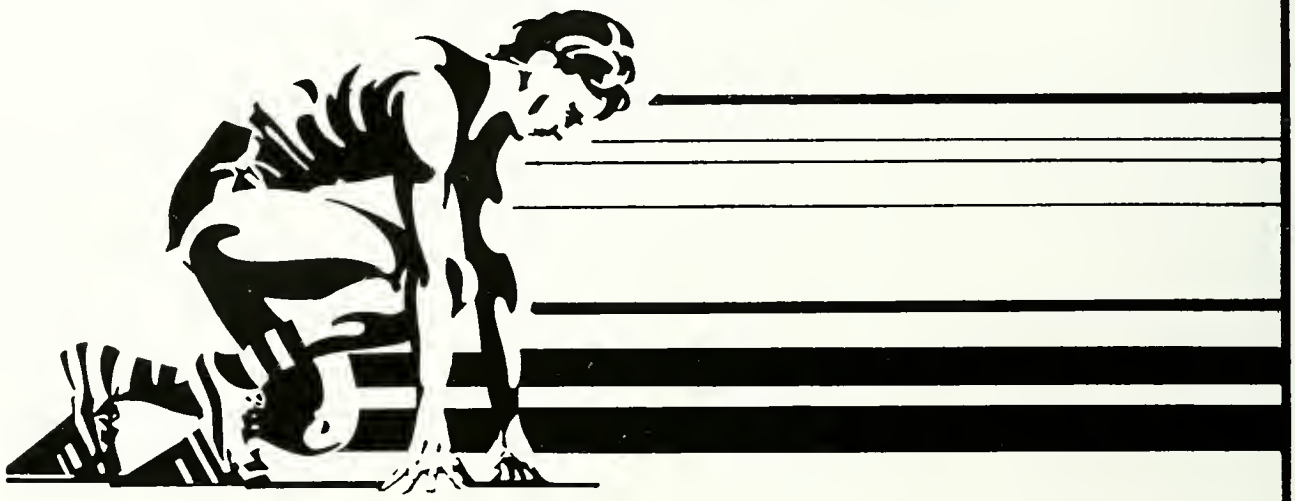
GOING THE DISTANCE



You hear it all the time...from parents, coaches, teachers...and it really is true. It's not whether you win or lose that's important...it's going the distance that counts.

Strive to be the best you can be. You may collect some trophies along the way, but your true reward is participating. At Famous Recipe, we continually strive to be the best we can be by offering our customers only quality country cooking. From our famous country chicken to slow-cooked country vegetables, fresh salads and buttermilk biscuits, pleasing you comes first.

Famous Recipe...for a taste of the country.

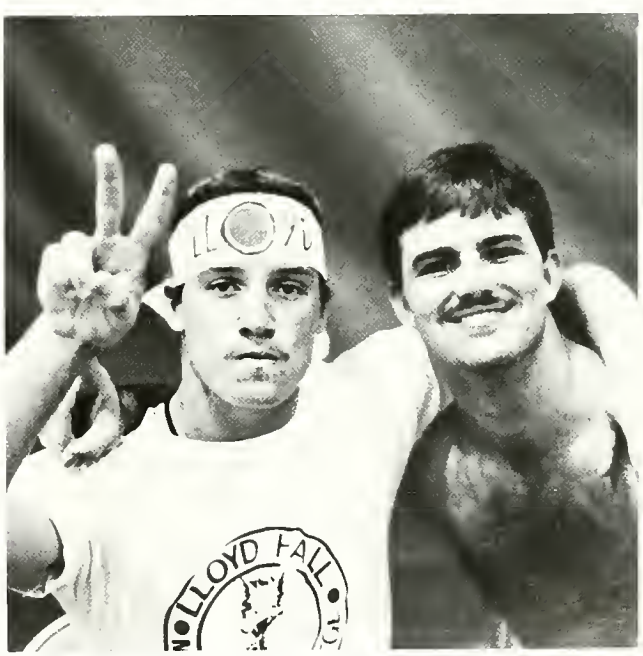
MAY MADNESS



SPRING FLING

On May 2, 1987, the quiet tranquility of Morningside Inn was overcome with loud, frolicsome, students celebrating the annual event marking the close of the term, appropriately known as Spring Fling. The evening was filled with dancing, eating, drinking, and just plain fun. Serving as the grand finale to the May Madness weekend, Spring Fling was a memorable event.

The 1987 Chilhowean is the product of long hours of hard work. With a small and new staff and several technical changes, assembling the yearbook became as much of a challenge as a task. Many members of the staff had never worked on an annual before, so they had to learn basically from scratch. This year's Chilhowean did have some major advantages over previous years' books, though. The most obvious and important change was the addition of Tillman Crane as photographic adviser. The of pictures in the yearbook can be credited to him and his staff — Leigh Emory, Julio Pesiri, Keith Moore, Catherine Cain, and Ash Jackson.

The photography staff has been of vital importance. Their high quality work and professionalism raise this yearbook to a level of photography never before reached in a Maryville College annual. I want to especially thank Leigh who shouldered much of the responsibility, and Julio who was indispensable during the Spring. Thanks, Julio, for always being able to take a last minute picture and for helping out whenever I needed a hand. Your photography and moral support are appreciated beyond words.

As for the actual assembly, the staff was small, but dedicated. We worked a lot of late nights but managed to get everything done. DeAnn Hargis, who had never worked on a yearbook before, took the initiative to complete the sports section from start to finish. She did everything from talking to coaches to typing up the copy. Your committment to the sports program and the yearbook are greatly appreciated, De.

After all the layouts were drawn, the typesetter, Al Hipkins, spent hours in front of the computer trying to decipher the submitted material. Without the computer genius of Al, I would still be trying to figure out the difference between a curser and a diskette. Thanks, Al, for all the long hours you put in and thanks for keeping me as far away from that computer as possible.

I would like to give a huge thank you to Scott Burgess. Scott worked with the Chilhowean from day one. He was responsible for the organizations and a thousand other things. Dependability and dedication made working with Scott a pleasure. I would also like to thank Julie Marshall for researching the histories of the campus buildings and providing us all with a better understanding of the roots of Maryville College. Dr. Sally McNeils help in recording the histories was invaluable.

We hope that you enjoy this edition of the Chilhowean and that it serves as a marker to the year of 1987. This book is special to a lot of people for a lot of reasons. It is the first edition with our new president, Dr. Richard Ferrin, and it depicts the final basketball and softball seasons for Sharon Arrington as coach of the Lady Scots.

May your memories of Maryville College be stirred each time you look at this book, and may special times and special friends be remembered.
